11/3/1992	Office	It was m/s (Mays/Jones) that the following procedure be practiced to maintain data and document security: The officer(s) or employee(s) of AMATYC responsible for membership files (electronic) and for financial data will keep backup files on disk at another location. Backups will be made on disks periodically, depending upon frequency of updating. When files are updated daily, backups should be made several times a week depending on how much data would be destroyed in a disaster. When files are updated weekly or less frequently, backups should be made at the time of the update. Two sets of disks should be used in addition to the copy of the data on the hard drive. When a backup is made on one set of disks, it should be taken to a separate location where the old backup disks are kept. Then, prior to the time of the next backup, the old backup disks will be returned to the location of the hard drive. Ideally, backups should be kept at a location that would be unlikely to be affected by any natural or human-made disaster which would destroy the original data on the computer. Disk copies of the policy manual, affiliate manual, convention manual, and any lengthy document subject to updating on an infrequent basis should be kept by the AMATYC officer or employee responsible for the updating procedure, and a second copy should be kept by the president. If the president is responsible for updating a document, a second copy should be kept by the president-elect. When updates occur and are approved, the person responsible for updating will send a disk with the update to the backup person. Important physical documents will be kept by the treasurer and copies of all these documents will be kept by the president. They will be kept in a safety deposit box. This will include Articles of Incorporation, government documents, insurance policies, etc.
